MS. BIKINI INTRODUCTION

The Ms. Bikini Universe competition is quite simply a beauty contest, but with special emphasis on body shape, condition and overall attractiveness. It includes three competitive rounds. There are no qualifications to compete and the event is open to women worldwide.

There are three Open Divisions which will be determined at each event after registration so as to provide for an equal number of participants in each height class. Contestants must be at least 18 years of age. No minors are permitted regardless of parental consent.

MS. BIKINI JUDGING CRITERIA

Themed Sportswear Round - 50% of Score

You have a chance to show your modeling talents and your creativity. Just like in the swimsuit round you will be asked to walk from one side of the stage to the other performing quarter turns at a specific point outlined on stage. The themed apparel you select should best represent your character, personality, athletic interests and/or any other appearance you're comfortable wearing. Just make sure it compliments your body. Work your magic - before you go on stage relax, enjoy your presentation and remember to smile.

Contestants must provide a brief description of their outfit in the Themed Sportswear Round. This is an opportunity for contestants to get creative with their costume and also mention the clothing sponsor, if any. No offensive costumes will be allowed (see through tops, etc.)

If a contestant is competing in both a Fitness Universe and Ms. Bikini Universe regional event, she must wear a different swimsuit in each event. G-String or thong type swimsuits are not allowed. Contestants whom have a muscular appearance and/or walk and generally carry themselves in a masculine manner will be negatively scored by the judges.

Ms. Bikini Classic & Masters Divisions

The Classic & Masters Divisions are exclusively for mature competitors who are at least 35 and 45 years of age, respectively. All of the competitive Rounds are the same as the Open Divisions but with one height class. As the Classic & Masters Divisions grow in popularity, consideration will be given to adding height classes. In most events, the Classic Division will be held concurrently with the Open Division. Competitors may participate in either the Open, Classic or Masters Divisions but not more than one.

FIGURE INTRODUCTION

The Ms. Bikini Universe competition is quite simply a beauty contest, but with special emphasis on body shape, condition and overall attractiveness. It includes three competitive rounds. There are no qualifications to compete and the event is open to women worldwide.

There are three Open Divisions which will be determined at each event after registration so as to provide for an equal number of participants in each height class. Contestants must be at least 18 years of age. No minors are permitted regardless of parental consent.

The Figure Division offers slightly naturally muscular women with a competitive arena. It is judged by bodybuilding coaches and professional bodybuilders and to ensure a clean, natural competition, professional drug-testing is administered among selected Finalists.

There are at least two height classes but sometimes three depending upon competitor numbers including the Short, Medium and Tall Classes.

BODY CONDITION

There's one major difference between Ms. Bikini and Figure competitors - body condition. While Ms. Bikini competitors must have an athletic, shapely and sexy appearance, Figure competitors may be slightly muscular, have low body fat but still present a shapely look. Ladies who have a more naturally muscular body would best compete in Figure while those with a softer but still toned body best compete in Ms. Bikini.

CONTEST FORMAT

The Figure Division is a Musclemania event with one 2-piece swimsuit round of competition. Due to the fact it is a Musclemania event, this division is judged by a bodybuilding panel. Competitors will be separated into classes by height, and will be judged both individually during a "T" or "Spot Light" walks and in group comparisons (see diagrams available at www.fitnessuniverse.com). THERE ARE NO MANDATORY POSES OR CALL-OUTS IN THIS DIVISION.

Figure competitors are judged on: Muscle Shape and Body Symmetry (40%), Body Condition (40%), and Overall Appearance (20%). Competitors should have a balanced athletic build, with clearly defined musculature. Size of the muscles is not important in this division like in bodybuilding, but these competitors should still have beautiful symmetry. Conditioning for this division should be a step down from a female bodybuilder, but a step up from a Ms. Bikini competitor. Excessive leanness and lack of feminine qualities, consistent with bodybuilding, will be penalized. Figure competitors are also judged on their overall appearance. This includes areas such as: stage presentation, hair and make-up, suit selection, feminine qualities, and posing. Competitors should appear confident and elegant, and present themselves in a way which best compliments their physique.

During their individual evaluations, competitors will perform what is called a "T" or "Spot Light" walk. In this walk, they will stop at four separate or a single location to present their personality and physique to the judges. In each of those positions, the competitor should again hit their two best poses. Please remember that when the term "pose" is used, it is NOT referring to bodybuilding mandatory poses. After they complete their last set of poses, they will proceed off-stage until the entire class is finished.

Once the individual evaluations are complete, the class will come back out on stage for group comparisons with quarter turns. This is the Figure Division, so there should be NO MANDATORY BODYBUILDING POSING during any of these quarter turns. In the group comparisons, the competitors will first be asked to face front. In the front position, the competitors must have their heels together and their arms flared at their sides. It is okay if a competitor wishes to put their toes slightly out during this front position. When the competitors take a quarter turn to the right, they can choose to stand in whichever way best suits their physique. The choices are: feet together with arms directly at the sides, feet together with one arm front and one behind, torso twisted to the front with arms at the side, or torso twisted with one or two hands on hips. In the side position the competitor can look to the side or audience. When facing the curtain, a competitor's position should be the same as the front position. It is recommended that the hair be swept off of the back so the judges can properly evaluate the musculature of the upper back. Competitors will then repeat the optional side poses when turned again, and then will face front to complete the turns. Once the first round of quarter turns are complete, the competitors may or may not be moved around in the line-up. Call-outs are not necessary due to the use of criterion judging, but competitors could be placed in a different order so that the judges can compare the musculatures. Once the judges have completed their evaluations, the competitors will be returned to their original numerical order and will then file off-stage.

Posing, walking or standing in an overly sexual or manner including spread legs, bending in a reverse position, moves indicative of a stripper or other provocative body positions and/or movements will result in a deduction of points at the discretion of the head judge.

SWIMSUIT DESIGN

A two-piece swimsuit must be worn and may have high, side cuts and extremely thin straps to extenuate their bodies lines. However, no thong or 'T' cuts are permitted. This is distinctly different from the more standard swimsuit designs as required in both the Ms. Bikini, Fitness and Model competitions. No one-piece suits may worn.

JUDGES

Figure competitions are judged by bodybuilding trainers, coaches and professional bodybuilders who support natural, drug-free athletics. Alternatively, Ms. Bikini judges are fitness coaches and trainers, talent agents, photographers and others representing mainstream sport disciplines. Prospective competitors contemplating which event to select should consider that the perspective of each set of judges will reflect their experiences and expertise.

MULTIPLE EVENTS

Competitors can participate in more than one event if they choose including Ms. Bikini, Figure, Fitness, Model and/or Bodybuilding. Each event will be scored by a completely different panel of judges, so competitors placing in respective events may vary according significantly. A Ladies Event Comparison chart is provided for reference.
